MIDLAND & GREAT NORTHERN JOINT RAILWAY

The M&GN, which operated a system of about 184 route miles, was the largest jointly-owned railway in the British Isles. Trains ran from Peterborough on the GNR and Little Bytham on the Midland Railway to Cromer, Norwich and other destinations in East Anglia. The Norfolk & Suffolk Joint (N&SJ) comprised two short lines from Cromer to North Walsham and from Yarmouth to Lowestoft; these routes were jointly-owned by the M&GN and Great Eastern companies.
